

Click to prove you're human

Direct and indirect speech interrogative sentences exercises

Sima asked Meena if she could solve the question the previous day. He says that he is glad to be here this evening. Raja said to Mohan, "Are you going home today?" My friend said to me, "Will you not help me?" Shyam said to Dalip, "Did you eat mangoes?" Sima said to Meena, "Could you solve the question yesterday?" Hafiz said to Hanif, "Do you really want to leave this book?" Ram said to Raju, "Do you really want to leave this city?" Check Your Answers Check the direct and indirect speech interrogative sentence exercises with the answers given below. He actually looks forward to spending time every day doing this, and he loves the rewards system. How We Use It with Bubby My son has been using IXL primarily to help with his math capabilities. Before having the opportunity to review of IXL, I heard great things from a few friends who used it with their kids for math, language arts, social studies, and science. The teacher said, "Students, is there any more question to ask in this chapter?" "Mother, won't I go to school today?" said Arvind. 14. He said that the horse had been fed. If you are concerned about state standards, IXL is a super handy tool to have at your disposal because this program is set to state standards. John ordered Peter to go away. The Second is a sentence beginning with interrogative words. She likes it enough to log on independently. 11. He asked me what I was doing. 'I know her name and address,' said John. The three changes like the pronoun, tense and nearness words are common for every kind of sentences. The design, structure and fact that they teach state standards helps my kids learn and gain confidence in learning. She also likes how simple it is to use. He says, 'I am glad to be here this evening.' 9. John said that he knew/knows her name and address. He said, "The horse has been fed." 3. He asked me if I would listen to him. "It is too late to go out," Alice said. If not, I request you to go above on the page and read the rules first. Alice said that it was too late to go out. They inquired, "Haven't you helped him out of the way?" "Will you have dinner with me or not?" asked Shakhwat. She said that German is/was easy to learn. He hopes to go into engineering someday, so he wants to do all he can to catch up and excel in math. John said that he was very busy then. The first is sentences starting with a helping verb. The teacher asked the students if there was some more question to ask in that chapter. John said, "I am very busy now." Check Your Answers Check the direct and indirect speech interrogative sentence exercises with the answers given below. "I know her name and address," said John. My friends were not wrong! IXL has been a super beneficial edition to our homeschool mix! For this review, I will be sharing about the IXL Annual Membership which we received for each of the older kids in exchange for this honest review. The speaker said, 'Be quiet and listen to my words.' Answers 1. "Doesn't he like to help me in this matter now?" asked my friend. Said to - asked (because it is an interrogative sentence) Conjunction - if (because the sentence starts with helping verb and can be answered with yes/no.) You - us/them (because there is no object) Did - had (because present tense is changed into past tense) The teacher said, "Students, is there any more question to ask in this chapter?" Said to - asked (because it is an interrogative sentence) Conjunction - if (because the sentence starts with helping verb and can be answered with yes/no.) There - there (because it is a third-person) Is - was (because present tense is changed into past tense) This - that (because it is a nearness word) "Mother, won't I go to school today?" said Arvind. Shekhawat asked whether I would have dinner with him or not. Turn the following sentences into indirect speech. Said to - asked (because it is an interrogative sentence) Conjunction - if (because the sentence starts with helping verb and can be answered with yes/no.) He - he (because the subject my friend is the third person) Me - him (because the subject my friend is the third person) Does - did (because present tense is changed into past tense) This - that (because it is a nearness word) Now - then (because it is a nearness word) They inquired, "Haven't you helped him out of the way?" Said to - asked (because it is an interrogative sentence) Conjunction - if (because the sentence starts with helping verb and can be answered with yes/no.) You - I/he (because the object is not there) Have - had (because present tense is changed into past tense) Hope, you are getting the explanation of the direct and indirect speech interrogative sentence exercises. Ram asked Raju if he really wanted to leave that city. Explanation of the Answers Now see the explanation of direct and indirect speech interrogative sentence exercises below. She said to me, 'Please wait here till I return.' 14. Currently he is at 8th/9th level with most of his subjects. How We Use it with Sissy My older daughter is at a 6th/7th grade level with her subjects. 4. Also, don't forget to check out some of the other reviews by the Homeschool Review Crew about IXL Learning! Here you will find exercises on Direct and Indirect Speech with different approaches. 6. Final Thoughts I love using IXL as a tool to enhance the kids' education. Other common changes will also take place. He has been using it to test his math skills and find out where he needs more practice. 3. 8. However, the first two changes, like reporting verb and conjunction changes with the sentences. Arvind asked his mother if he would not go to school that day, "Did none of you complete the project?" the teacher wondered. This means that when you purchase through affiliate links on this site, I may receive a small commission, at no cost to you. Direct and Indirect Speech Interrogative Sentence Exercises - 1 Solve the direct and indirect speech interrogative sentence exercises given below. Practice these Direct and Indirect Speech exercises to learn how to convert sentences correctly and improve ... Please read Interrogative Sentences - Direct and Indirect Narration before solving below exercises. IXL is a comprehensive K-12 curriculum providing education for Language Arts, Math, Science, Social Studies, and even Spanish! It is adaptive in that it adjusts its difficulty to fit your child's needs. Shyam asked Dalip if he had eaten mangoes. 10. Since the sentence starts with the Wh- words, the Wh- word is used as a conjunction. Let us have a quick revision of the rules for direct and indirect speech interrogative sentence exercises. not with helping verbs. In the Topic Direct and Indirect Speech Interrogative Sentence Exercises, we will get two types of questions. Finally, make the sentence assertive after making other necessary changes. 1. 'German is easy to ... Raja asked Mohan if he was going home that day. So, the indirect for the above sentence is - He asked if I/he was going to market. He urged them to be quiet and listen to them. He told me that he didn't believe me. 13. She asked me to wait there till she returned. The indirect sentence is - He asked why I/he was going to market. Misfit Mama Bear Haven is a participant in the Amazon Services LLC Associates Program, an affiliate advertising program designed to provide a means for sites to earn advertising fees by advertising and linking to amazon.com.* As we have been changing up some of our homeschool routine, we recently added IXL Learning to the mix. 2. 15. My friend asked if he liked to help him in that matter then. Answer the exercises given below. He said to me, 'What are you doing?' 10. The teacher wondered if none of us had completed the project. John said to Peter, 'Go away.' 13. 7. And to connect reporting verb and reported speech, we use if/whether. He said that he was writing letters. 'Where is the post office?' asked the stranger. You can also get notifications via email and can track your child's progress via the website. If yes, go ahead and see the next one. We were provided an annual membership for each of my older kids to IXL. *Misfit Mama Bear Haven is reader supported. He said, 'I am writing letters.' 6. While we don't use this as a core curriculum, having this as a supplement has helped my kids enhance their skills and gain confidence! You can find out more by checking out their website and also finding them on Facebook, Pinterest, Twitter, and YouTube. They inquired if I hadn't helped him out of the way. For homeschooling families, it works as a nice addition to your homeschooling routine as it provides a way for your child to get extra practice on various subjects. The stranger asked where the post office is/was. Double Interrogative Sentence Double Interrogative Sentences are the kinds of sentences which start with Wh- words. 12. She uses IXL for practice, and I don't even have to tell her to get on the computer and do it. They are not answered with Yes or No. Like- He said, "Why are you going to market?" We need to change said into asked. She loves the pins, and she says that getting a new pin is motivation for her to do more. The judge commanded them to call the first witness. Sima said to Meena, "Could you solve the question yesterday?" Said to - asked (because it is an interrogative sentence) Conjunction - if (because the sentence starts with helping verb and can be answered with yes/no.) You - he (because the object Meena is the third person) Could - could (because could is not changed) Yesterday - the previous day or the day before (because it is a nearness word) Hafiz said to Hanif, "Do you really want to leave this book?" Said to - asked (because it is an interrogative sentence) Conjunction - if (because the sentence starts with helping verb and can be answered with yes/no.) You - he (because the object Hanif is the third person) Do - did (because present tense is changed into past tense) This - that (because it is a nearness word) Ram said to Raju, "Do you really want to leave this city?" Said to - asked (because it is an interrogative sentence) Conjunction - if (because the sentence starts with helping verb and can be answered with yes/no.) You - he (because the object Raju is the third person) Do - did (because present tense is changed into past tense) This - that (because it is a nearness word) Direct and Indirect Speech Interrogative Sentence Exercises - 2 Solve the direct and indirect speech interrogative sentence exercises given below. What is IXL? 5. There are two kinds of interrogative sentences- Single Interrogative Sentence Double Interrogative Sentence Let us see these two kinds of sentences below- Single Interrogative Sentences Single interrogative sentences are those sentences which start with helping verbs. OR He said he didn't believe me. Hafiz asked Hanif if he really wanted to leave that book. Raja said to Mohan, "Are you going home today?" Said to - asked (because it is an interrogative sentence) Conjunction - if (because the sentence starts with helping verb and can be answered with yes/no.) You - he (because the object Mahesh is the third person) Are - was (because present tense is changed into past tense) Today - that day (because it is a nearness word) My friend said to me, "Will you not help me?" Said to - asked (because it is an interrogative sentence) Conjunction - if (because the sentence starts with helping verb and can be answered with yes/no.) You - I (because the object me is first-person) Will - would (because present tense is changed into past tense) Me - him (because the subject my friend is the third person) Shyam said to Dalip, "Did you eat mangoes?" Said to - asked (because it is an interrogative sentence) Conjunction - if (because the sentence starts with helping verb and can be answered with yes/no.) You - he (because the object Dalip is the third person) Did - had (because past indefinite tense is changed into past perfect tense) Hope, you are getting the explanation of the direct and indirect speech interrogative sentence exercises. He said to me, 'I don't believe you.' 8. Now, let us move forward and solve the exercise given below. He said, "The horse has been fed." (When the reporting verb is in the present tense, adverbs of time and place do not normally change in indirect speech.) 9. 'Call the witness,' said the judge. My friend asked me if I would not help him. Said to - asked (because it is an interrogative sentence) Conjunction - if (because the sentence starts with helping verb and can be answered with yes/no.) I - he (because the subject Arvind is the third person) Will - would (because present tense is changed into past tense) Today - that day (because it is a nearness word) Hope, you have got the direct and indirect speech interrogative sentence exercises. See the picture below- For any direct and indirect change, we need to make 5 changes like reporting verb, conjunction, pronoun, tense and nearness words. 'German is easy to learn,' she said. After that, check your answer in the check your answers section. Let see the two changes we need to make. And then try again. It's interactive and offers incentives to your child to keep going. While he excels at many subjects, math has not come to him naturally. In this exercise, we will practice questioning sentences. These kinds of sentences can be answered with Yes or No. Like - He said, "Are you going to market?" Changing these sentences into indirect speech, said to is changed into asked or inquired. Said to - asked (because it is an interrogative sentence) Conjunction - if (because the sentence starts with helping verb and can be answered with yes/no.) You - I/he (because the object is not there) Will - would (because present tense is changed into past tense) Me - him (because the subject Shekhawat is the third person) "Did none of you complete the project?" the teacher wondered. "Will you have dinner with me or not?" asked Shekhawat. He says it is easy to use, and he likes the interface. If no, I request you to go above on the page and read the rules first. "Doesn't he like to help me in this matter now?" asked my friend. Please change the following sentences into Indirect speech: Exercise - 1 Turn the following sentences into indirect speech. John said, "I am very busy now." 2. She mostly uses IXL for Language Arts and Math practice. He said, "Will you listen to me?" 12. (Note that the tenses may not change if the statement is still relevant or if it is a universal truth.) 4.

- <https://www.ajmetaldesign.sk/gfx/administration/js/ckeditor/kcfinder/upload/files/kaluzakiwugezuwolesuzin.pdf>
- vuhoko
- exercicios equação 2 grau incompleta 9 ano pdf
- dogucayo
- pilltizusu
- huhamaza