Get the penguin Fly in the air and into space Learn to fly 3 In the third installment of the Learn to fly series, you will fly through the sky with a penguin that glides horizontally. You can change the key elements of this character to improve it and even higher. You will need to explore the options available to gain more height and get off the ground as much as possible thanks to the various resources available that cannot be bought or acquired. This version of the game has 4 different modes including a story mode where you have to fly your penguin into space, so having enough power and speed is essential to reach the goal. On the other hand, the player must stand up with sufficient force using the penguin's own weight; classic mode, which allows you to travel through the air in a horizontal position, as in previous versions, but this time without sliding mechanisms. In addition, there is a sandbox mode that can be played with more modifications, which will also allow you to have fun. It should be added that this is a family game, perfect for distracting your mind for a few minutes and really having fun trying to get to the place with the penguin. Additionally, as you progress through the different stages of the game, you can choose between help packs to get extra points and other items (list 24) to start the game. They can be combined and will certainly help in your endeavours. You play with the arrow keys to move in different directions and the space bar to get the support you need. Games in the same category, there are also some games that can be played on Google Chrome, such as: B. It's Space 2. There you have to board a rocket and go to Mars to complete various missions while saving money and fuel adventure.
