Greater intelligence. Regeneration. Weapons consisting of, among other things, the goblin glider, bombs and various types of gas. The Green Goblin is a super villainous anti-cant of Marvel comics and one of Spider-Man's biggest enemies. Considered by Stan Lee and Steve Ditko. He first appeared in Amazing Spider-Man #14 (July 1964). In total, several people have adopted the alter ego of the Green Goblin. The best known (partly from the 2002 Spider-Man movie) is the original and current Green Goblin, the industrialist Norman Osborn. Norman was thought for years that he was dead (longer also than in other super villages - "super villages that did not bleach dead afterwards). The Green Goblin is as the most famous super villain because of his murder of Spider-Mans Friend Gwen Stacy. This also gave him the title of Spider-Mans Most Dangerous Opponent. In addition to the other green goblins, a pair later appeared in Green Goblin's enemies, such as the Hobgoblin and the lesser-known demogoblin. Biography The original Goblin was Norman Osborn, a ruthless industrialist who, together with Dr. Mendal Stromm, had created a large company. After themselves by Dr. Stomn to have been stripped for full control of the company, Norman discovered an experimental formula for a potency and intelligent serum. When Norman tried to make this serum, it exploded in his face. The mixture gave indeed Norman increases strength and intelligence, but in the end it drove him to madness. Osborn then took on the identity of the Green Goblin: an all-green and purple super-villain dress based on a monster he was afraid of during his youth. Because of his crimes, he soon hit Spider-Man. For a more effective fight Spider-Man, Norman built the famous Goblin Glider with which he could travel through the air, and several other weapons such as his well-known pumpkin bombs, razorbats and gloves that dragged energy shots. After he discovered that Peter Parker was Spider-Man, Norman kidnapped him and presented his own identity. The two fought, where was reported Norman and his lost memory. In an attempt to endure the madness, Peter burned the Green Goblin costume. However, the Goblin personality did not let go of Norman, and eventually stopped at the head. ontvoerde Spider-Mans vriendin Gwen Stacy en vermoorde haar van de George Washington Bridge te gooien. Hierop vond het laatste gevecht plaats tussen Spider-Man en de Green Goblin, waarbij Norman werd doorboord door zijn eigen Goblin Glider. Hierna werd hij jarenlang dood gewaand. Andere Green Goblins Tijdens Normans afwezigheid nomen verschillende andere mensen de identiteit van de Green Goblin over. Harry Osborn Zie Harry Osborn voor het hoofdartikel over dit onderwerp. Dr. Bart Hamilton Dr. Bart Hamilton was the psychiatrist die Harry Osborn behandelde nadat hij was reset. Hamilton had zelf echter het ideas opgevat om de derde Green Goblin te worden. Via hypnose ontfutselde hij Harry het geheim van de Green Goblin en stal vervolgens zijn wapens en kostuum. Hij was an amateur echter een vergeleken met de vorige twee goblins. Uiteindelijk stierf hij brings een bom die voor Spider-Man bedoeld was. Jaren later was Hamilton een van de mensen van wie werd gedacht dat hij de Hobgoblin, maar dit gerucht bleek niet waar. Phil Urich Nadat Harry Osborn stierf aan de gevolgen van het Goblinserum werden zijn spullen overgenomen brings Philip Benjamin "Phil" Urich, die soeberde een estimatede als superheld op te bouwen. Dit lukte aardig, hoewel hij soms net zo psychisch gestureord leek als zijn voorgangers. Nadat zijn Goblinspullen werden beschadig in een gevecht met een Sentinel gaf hij zijn rol als Green Goblin op. De terugkeer van Norman Osborn Nadat Phil Urich zijn rol als Green Goblin opgaf bleek dat Norman Osbron nog leefde. Dit was erg poleversieële beslissing van Marvel, maar wel een die nodig werd geacht. Onthuld werd dat dankzij het sirum Norman genas van zijn verwondlingen en utweek naar Europa. Hier was hij jarenlang achter de schermen verantwoordelijk voor veel van Peters Hellende. Zo was hij betrokken bij de Clone Saga, waarin hij de documenten verwisselde, waardoor het leek dat Ben Reilly de echte Spider-Man was en Peter Parker een kloon. Tevens liet hij een van zijn helpers Mary Jane Watson vergifigen en hun "doodgeboren" type ontvoeren. Een tijdje liet hij een genetisch wezen, ooit een mens, onder zijn bevel de vijfde Green Goblin worden. Dit wezen bleek echter onstabiel, en smolt weg. De Goblins opvolger Nadat de vijfde Goblin was manager, kwam Norman met een nieuw plan voor Spider-Man, hij wilde dat Peter zijn opvolger zou worden. Hij droegerde Parker met with a drugs zodat deze, verkleed als de Green Goblin, zijn vrienden aanviel. Daarna nam Norman hem mee naar zijn oude huis en soeberde hem te overtuigen in zijn voetsporen te treden. Dagen van psychology en fysieke marteling volgde, maar Peter weigerde op het laatste moment alsnog Normans aanbod. Peter besloot zijn vijandschap met Norman eens en voor altijd af te handelen. Bina vermoorde hij Norman, maar op het laatste moment hield hij zich in omdat als hij toe zou geven aan zijn haat en Norman zou doden, het laatstevan gwen ook zou sterven. RegulationsThe true identity of the green fools was publicly revealed after an in-depth investigation of the Daily Bugle. As a result, Norman was arrested and went to prison for the first time in the 40 years of Green Goblin's history. However, Norman had a plan ready for this to happen. He hired Scorpio to kidnap Peter's aunt May and forced Peter to help him escape. Then Norman put together the Twelve Left team to defeat Spider-Man. When the Twelve Lefts were defeated, Norman escaped. Sins Past In the controversial Sins Past storyline, it was revealed that just before his death, Gwen Stacy and Norman Osborn had a relationship, and Gwen gave birth to twins. After Gwen's death, Osborn brought children to Europe and called them Gabriel and Sarah. Due to the Goblin formula that Norman had used on himself, children grew much faster than normal. Gabriel and Sarah thought Peter was their father and killed their mother. Peter finally managed to convince Sarah of the truth, but not Gabriel. Gabriel assumed the identity of an alternative Green Goblin called "Grey Goblin" and fought Spider-Man. During the fight, Gabriel lost his memory and departed with Sarah for Europe. During the storyline Civil War, Osborn tried to polish his public image and became leader of the Thunderbolts. He also assumed the identity of superhero Iron Patriot, but did not keep this new lifestyle for long. Power and equipment The serum that turned Norman Osborn, and later his successors, in Green Goblin gave him an increased intelligence (but not superhuman) and a limited superforce. Later, Norman's strength increased more or less to the same level as Spider-Man. In addition, Goblin has increased the reflections, speed and protection against wounds. Osborne is also able to quickly heal from normal mortal wounds (although this was introduced only later as an explanation of how Norman survived his wounds by the ailtant). In addition to the serum, the Green Goblin has a large arsenal of weapons and gadgets. The best known is the Goblin Glider, a single-seater air transport vehicle with speeds up to 300 miles per hour and very maneuverable. Norman is also very skilled in genetics, robotics and chemistry. For example, he designed pumpkin-shaped grenades such as weapons and several poisonous gases. The superhero Green Goblin (Phil Urich) had a daring and manic laughter to weaken his enemies. Unlike the other Goblins, Phil received only a small dose of the Goblin serum. His powers came largely from the Goblin Mask, which increased his strength and speed through an electric shock without the negative side effects of the serum. Ultimate Green Goblin In Ultimate Marvel comics, Norman Osborn is a corrupt industrial scientist who hasto create the super soldier serum with which America to improve his powers. In one of these experiments, a spider was injected with the new serum. This spider then bite Peter Parker, which consequently has become the spider man. Norman concluded that the serum combined with the spider's DNA gave Peter the characteristics of a spider. Then he tried it on himself. The experiment was ill and Norman turned into the monstrous Green Goblin. To destroy all the tests of the existence of him, Norman kills his wife and also tries to kill his son Harry. Later, Norman learns to control the change of him in Goblin. Try to convince the spider man to work for him, but the latter refuses. In a clash with the Ultimate, Norman is impressed and arrested. The main difference between the Ultimate Green Goblin and the Green Goblin of the original comics is that in the comics Ultimate, Norman turns into a real goblin, while its original comics counterpart is just dressed as such. The Ultimate Green Goblin can also shoot fire from his hands, Green Goblin in other media television in almost all Spider-Man animated series. Green Goblin appeared in one way or another the first appearance of Green Goblin was in the animated series of Spider-Man from 1967. Many fans are I remained disappointed by this Green Goblin. For example, this Green Goblin was a normal robber that was also interested in magic and supernatural. Things that didn't care about the Green Goblin of comics. In the Animated Series of Spider-Man from 1981, there was a Green Goblin who had many similarities with Lizzard. This Green Goblin had a serious medical problem and turned into Green Goblin against him every time. The Green Goblin has also appeared in Spider-Man and His Amazing Friends The Green Goblin appeared in the 1994 Spider-Man animated series was the closest thing to the Green Goblin of comics. Be Norman and Harry become the Green Goblin in this series. Although Norman was introduced at the beginning of the series, his alter-ego Green Goblin was a retardator. It was only in the third season that Green Goblin appeared for the first time. He became the Green Goblin after an accident with an experimental formula for Kingpin. The Norman Osborn version of the Green Goblin is seen for the last time while he steals the temporal expansion accelerator, a device that can open ways in other sizes, from Kingpin. Both the Green Goblin and Mary Jane fall into such a gate and they don't return. Later in the series, Harry Osborn discovers and adopts the father's identity of him as Green Goblin. However, he renounces the role after his girlfriend Liz Allan convinces him to do it. In the final episode, Spider-Man visits an alternative reality, where he meets the Green Goblin of that reality, among others. An alternative version of Green Goblin has appeared in the animated series Unlimited. This Green Goblin, whose true identity has not been revealed, was actually a superhero. He also didn't use a Goblin Glider, but he had two bat wings on his costume with which he could fly. The Norman Osborn version of Green Goblin also appears in the Spectacular Spider-Man series. Sam Raimi trilogy film in the Spider-Man Blockbuster, Norman Osborn is played by Willem Dafoe. "Norman Osborn" is undergoing a change. To save his company from the threat to lose an important military contract in favor of a competitor, he decides to test himself the still experimental formula of a performance upgrader. Drug increases its strength and intelligence of him, but leads him to madness. He develops a second evil personality that eliminates anyone who puts on the Norman road. Armed with military weapons that Oscorp was developing, Norman attacks his rival Quest Aerospace. The first appearance of him is at the World Unity Festival, where Norman eliminates all the members of the Oscar Board of Directors because they wanted to fire him as director. This also leads to his first conflict with the spider man. At the Alter Ego in Norman costume was then given the name of "Green Goblin" from the editor of the Daly Bugle, J. Jonah Jameson. Norman tries to convince the spider man to fight on him, but he refuses. Through a wound to the arm of the spider man, Norman discovers the true identity of the spider man and uses this knowledge to attack Peter's loved ones, starting with his aunt Mayer. In the film climax, Norman kidnaps Mary Jane and the door on the Queensboro Bridge. He gives man spider a choice: save Mary Jane or a tram cabin full of children. The spider man saves them both with the help of the bystants, after which he and the Goblin fight in an abandoned building in Roosevelt Island. During this fight, the Goblin is unmasked. He tries to attack Spider-Man to his back with him the glider of him. Spider-Man, though, jump standing at the last moment, seeking Norman be pierced from him himself Glider. With the last words of him asks Peter to say nothing to Harry. Since Peter says nothing in Harry about him that father is the Green Goblin, Harry thinks that Spider-Man killed Norman and swears revenge. In the second film, Harry discovers that Peter is Spider-Man, who leads him to believe that Peter killed him. In the two subsequent films of the trilogy, Norman is seen only as an illusion in Harry's mind. However, in the third film Harry Osborn becomes the new Goblin. Other films Norman Osborn is an invisible character in the Amazing Spider-Man film. In the film, Dr. Connors works for the company of Osborne, and Osborne finances Connors's research because he himself is chronic sick and hopes that Connors can find a cure for him. In the second film of the series, The Amazing Spider-Man 2, Norman Harry's son, and ultimately takes the identity of Green Goblin. Although Norman Osborne himself does not occur in the cinematographic universe of wonder, his alter-ego de ferro Patriot model was for the harness of the war machine in the movie Iron Man 3.
